

Motive

by David Ackley

For example, the cat black, with a bitter incidence of white, casting at the feeder for a stray fall of jay, barking high limbed above the seed pelted snow, is there —plumply attended in all needs—not in want but wont.

