

Air On The G String

by John Riley

If love could only by heat be bound air would have no need of the string, the passion warm inside this sound is love, more love, than fire can sing.

