yesterday/today

by Kitty Boots

what will come walking the weary to a resting place of bones and shuttered windows dusty corners stale, vacant tilling the soil tamping down seeds you try to grow again