

There's no time

by Randal Houle

There's no time between us for I saw you yesterday Or has it been ten years since I saw a freckle on your face

Your hair lightens in the summer and darkens in my dreams you gave me a smile for my birthday
I kissed you on Halloween

There were sunsets, but few sunrises between us moments of eternities and lonely in-betweens

I lost you when the band changed a broken record, I should've listened, I should've listened I should've listened
