

The Money Tree

by George LaCas

Tree full of dimes and dollars
Rusty restless pennies rustle
The wind subtracts the weight of gold
And lofts the leaves a thousandfold
What can those whispering voices be?
Not green money talking in the tree

